"He never let on to Mom and Dad how he felt...because we had a hard time making ends meet."
"Compared to Johnny's home, mine was heaven."
"Two-Bit said with a good-natured grin, the chips are always down when it's our turn..."
"She left me standing there with my mouth dropped open, and the blue Mustang vroomed off."
"He would slap Darry on the back and tell him he was getting to be a man, a regular chip off the block..."
"He was as white as a ghost and his eyes were wild-looking, like the eyes of an animal in a trap."
"It scraped on my raw nerve like sandpaper."
"Dally handed me a shirt about sixty-million sizes too big."
"He's hard as a rock and about as human."
"I couldn't have gotten much cooler without turning into a popsicle."
